STATE CLASS C CHAMPIONS—The Telstar High School softball team showed the Madawaska High School Owls what a team that has pitched, hit, fielded and run well all season can do in the big game—win big. The Rebels defeated Madawaska 11-0 in the championship game. Shown here after winning the Western Maine Class C Championship title over Sacopee Valley are front row Suzann Richardson, left, Shilo Hutchins, Angie Hebert, Kris Delano, Lynn Buckingham, Crystal Chase and Jen Bailey; back row, Sarah Hebert, left, Amy

Hannon, Jen Percival, Dawn Davis, Pam Bennett, Maelynn Patten, Dani Bernier, Stacie Kangas and April Yates. The team's homecoming Monday night, after clinching the state championship in Orono, was celebrated with an impromptu motorcade of police cars, fans and firetrucks. The festivities continued at Telstar High School where Superintendent Dewaine Craig, School Board Chairman Margaret Hand and Principal Ted Davis dished up ice cream for the state champs and their supporters. NTL will leave Bethel

Says its facilities here are inadequate, inconvenient and don't attract clients

National Training Laboratories will phase out its Bethel operations at the end of this year.

The move is potentially devastating to a number of in-town businesses, some of which derive an estimated 40 percent of their yearly income from NTL participants.

NTL Executive Director Lennox Joseph gave the word to more than 50 Bethel residents and businesspeople at a public meeting Thursday evening.

Citing a 1983 report which termed NTL's Bethel location "a legacy from our past," Lennox told the meeting that for more than 10 years the organization had been contemplating either upgrading its Bethel facilities to year-round or pulling out of town entirely.

Lennox attributed the decision to leave to the absence of adequate training space and facilities in Bethel, increased complaints from staff and participants about the arrangements here and to the difficulty and inconvenience of accessing the site from major airports.

The nature of NTL participants has also changed in the more than 40 years the organization has been offering training courses here, he said.

"Bethel doesn't appeal to our participants," he said, noting that if NTL—whose market share is declining—is to compete successfully for participants, it had to be able to offer "the kind of place you see on slick brochures."

Joseph said NTL's 12-member board of directors had voted unanimously to make the change, and that the decision was final.

He was in Bethel only to communicate the decision and to get input about the next steps for the town and NTL, he said.

Joseph prefaced his announcement by saying that he wanted "to pay homage to the mutually supportive and prosperous" relationship between the town and NTL, a relationship that has continued despite a number "of ups and downs through the years."

He said the organization was very much aware of the impact the move will have on the town.

NTL intended "to be absolutely sensitive to the needs of the Bethel community," he said, and "to assure a certain amount of economic development.

However, when pressed by Cameron House owner John Bayerlein for details on what concrete form that concern would take, Joseph said no plans had yet been worked out—other than to discuss the possibility of NTL providing a consultant to help the town set up a task force to deal with the change.

Robin Zinchuk, executive director of the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce, said she had not given up hope that the decision could be overturned, but Joseph offered little encouragement. "I haven't heard anything new," he said of his two meetings that day in Bethel.

Joseph said the only way to overturn the decision would be for NTL's 436 members to vote out the current board.

Some members of the audience challenged Joseph on aspects of the decision, but most appeared regrettably resigned to the loss.

"A lot of us feel a sense of ownership," said Tom Remington. Bayerlein said: "It's a business decision and we have to accept that and get on with our lives."

"I don't see the town disintegrating if NTL leaves," said Paula Gillies, "but I hate to see that opportunity lost." "There's still lots of reason to come to Bethel in the summer," Zinchuk said, "but a big piece of our market

State Champs!

Rebels wait out the rain, then ground the Owls for state Class C softball title

The Telstar Rebels are the Maine State Class C softball champions. The girls won the title convincingly Monday, trouncing the Madawaska Owls 11-0.

The girls were forced to wait out Mother Nature before playing the championship game, which had been postponed from Saturday and almost postponed again when rains threatened Monday afternoon.

But when the field at Orono was ready, so were the Rebels.

Catcher (and MVC All-Star) Dani Bernier said the win was a team effort. "Everybody was pretty calm and Stacie (Kangas—also an MVC All-Star) pitched really well. She pitched a one-hitter, but our defense also did a good job and our offense finished it with 11 runs."

This was the Rebel's tenth year in the Class C playoffs, but their first state championship. "For ten years we've been knocking on the door," said Coach Jim Lunney, "and this year they let us in."

When the girls returned to Telstar they were met by a noisy throng of fans. The team bus was escorted by police and firetrucks up Route 26 from Bryant Pond then on to a victory lap around the Bethel village.

"When we came into Bryant Pond and were met by a police cruiser and firetruck, the girls were really excited," said Coach Lunney. "But when we got to Locke Mills it looked like everybody else in the world was waiting for us. It was our second highlight of the day."

Firetrucks from Woodstock, Greenwood and Bethel, along with Bethel and state police cruisers, were joined by over 30 cars in the parade—all sounding sirens and honking horns to salute the Rebel victory.

The parade ended at Telstar. The team was treated to pizza and ice cream, while they watched the tape of their title game. Coach Lunney also passed out certificates, letters and awards to the team.

In their game Monday, the Rebels got off to an early lead, then kept building on it. The Owls' pitcher walked lead off batter Kris Delano and left

Bethel town meeting nixes ordinance changes, backhoe

But voters OK new sign regulations

Only 78 of Bethel's 1731 voters—less than 5 percent—turned out for the annual town meeting last week.

The voters who did show up approved a new sign ordinance, the town's first, but they rejected proposed amendments to the town site plan reviewing and sewer use ordinances.

They also turned down—by a margin of one vote—the selectmen's recommendation that the town purchase a new backhoe.

And they rejected an article authorizing the town to turn over to local snowmobile clubs any money received from the state for trail maintenance and upkeep.

A citizen-initiated petition calling for a $739.20 donation to the Tri-County Chapter of the American Red Cross was also defeated—as the voters opted, without discussion, to go along with the recommendation of the selectmen and budget committee that no money be donated.

The other financial articles on the budget were approved as written, with the exception of the appropriation for the Bethel Recreation Committee. At the urging of former committee member Tom Remington, voters agreed to add $1,000 to the $5,825 appropriation recommended by the selectmen and budget committees. Remington argued that with the rapid growth of the program, the extra money was badly needed for safety equipment.

The two ordinance amendments and the backhoe purchase drew the most discussion.

The site plan review amendments would have added a wetlands-and-

Bethel Police Chief Dale Bellman suffers serious heart attack

Bethel Police Chief Dale Bellman was taken by ambulance to Stephens Memorial Hospital Sunday afternoon, after suffering an apparent heart attack while at his residence.

As of Tuesday afternoon, a spokesperson for the hospital reported that Bellman was in stable condition and awaiting transfer to Maine Medical Center for further testing.

Bethel Town Manager Madeleine Henley said Bellman is expected to out for at least six weeks. She said the other two officers on the Bethel department, Darren Tripp and Mike Fortin, will pick up his shifts with the help of the town's corps of reserve officers.

She said that both the Oxford County Sheriff's Office and the Maine State Police have offered to provide extra assistance to the town, including additional coverage and back-up, while Chief Bellman is incapacitated.

Andover comprehensive plan committee will present draft next week

After 18 months of work, the Andover Comprehensive Plan Committee will present a draft of the town's plan at a public forum on Thursday, June 27, at 7 p.m. at the town hall. The planning effort is the result of the adoption of the Growth Management Law by the Maine Legislature in 1988. Because Andover was considered one of Maine's fastest growing communities, the plan must be submitted to the Office of Comprehensive Planning for review in July.

The plan addresses numerous issues in Andover including economic development, future development patterns and natural resources. A number of recommendations to revise the existing ordinances and develop Andover's first zoning ordinance are included in the plan.

The Future Land Use Plan establishes growth and rural areas and identifies the South Arm and Upton Road areas as areas that are deserving of special considerations.

Copies of the draft plan will be available at the town office the week of the forum.

Opinions

How sweet it is!

A well-earned "congratulations" to the Telstar Rebels softball squad—the 1991 Maine Class C Champions.

Over the last few years the Rebel girls have come so close to capturing state crowns, in both softball and field hockey, only to see the dream fade just a little too soon.

But there was no denying them this year. After a disappointing defeat in last year's semi-finals, the Rebels came back, practiced hard, built up a solid season's record, and charged through the playoffs.

Most of their playoff victories were relatively easy, but in a thriller against Sacopee Valley for the Western Maine crown, they showed they not only had tons of talent, but also the guts to tough out the close ones.

Like true champions, they figured out what they had to do to win, and then they found a way to do it.

So, to MVC All-Stars Dani Bernier, Stacie Kangas, Kris Delano and Shilo Hutchins, to all their teammates, to coach Jim Lunney and assistant coach Barb Russell, and to everyone else who pitched in to make it such a successful season—well done! MRD

And get well soon, Chief

Our thoughts and our prayers are with Bethel Police Chief Dale Bellman, who is in the hospital recovering from a heart attack.

Since taking over his new post in March, Chief Bellman put in long, hard hours revamping Bethel's undermanned police department and increasing its level of professionalism.

It's always difficult to say exactly what brings on a heart attack, but the stress the chief was under no doubt played a role.

But in only a short time he built up a solid team, who'll no doubt do an excellent job while he's out. His only job now is to relax, to forget about the office and the streets and just get well. MRD

School board rejects proposal to offer paid private music lessons

The SAD #44 Board of Directors has turned down a proposal to plug the district's elementary instrumental music gap with private lessons.

The district currently offers choral music to pupils in kindergarten through grade six, but not instrumental lessons. Instrumental music is offered in the middle school, along with limited chorus; while at the high school, instrumental music classes are offered but not chorus.

Hiring an additional instructor to fill the gaps in the district's music curriculum has been three times proposed in administrative budget drafts, and three disposed of in subsequent budget trimmings.

At last week's regular meeting of the SAD #44 board, district music director Harry Davis proposed to remedy the lack of elementary music instruction himself—on his own time and for a small fee to the students involved.

Davis' schedule for the coming year calls for him to work from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday through Thursday and from 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Friday. He proposed to the board that he spend the mornings on Monday through Friday offering private lessons to fourth-, fifth- and sixth-grade pupils.

Davis currently offers private lessons after school hours, but this arrangement, he said, is less than ideal. It presents parents with transportation problems and the music lessons are forced to compete with other traditional after-school activities, such as athletics, dance lessons, scouting and church youth groups.

"These drawbacks, he said, have greatly weakened the district's feeder program for upper-level musical activities such as the band. "It is commonly understood in music education circles that a feeder program in the lower grades is essential for even the existence of a secondary program," he told the board.

Board members, and Superintendent Dewaine Craig, expressed support for Davis' goal of strengthening the feeder program, but they worried about both the precedent that would be set if his proposal was approved, and about the problem of having pupils pulled out of their classes for yet another school-hours activity.

"Accepting this might open a whole can of worms," Craig said, predicting that numerous other private individuals would then feel free to approach the board with proposals for offering private lessons during school time.

Davis defended the paid-private-lesson concept, noting that it was common in western states for students to pay for some aspects of their education.

New England has traditionally resisted the idea, he said, "but we may come to a time when students will pay for their textbooks and other lessons."

The directors also worried that even without music lessons children were already being pulled out of their classes for too many other activities. "It seems to me that teachers must be reaching their limits with pull outs," said Nevry director Alison Aloisio.

After nearly an hour of discussion the board rejected Davis' proposal by a vote of 494-334, but Superintendent Craig promised to press on with the attempt to get budget approval for an additional music teacher.

In other action at last week's meeting, the board concurred with a recommendation from its finance committee rejecting a proposal to offer a line item budget at the annual district budget meeting, arguing that such a move would be too complicated and cumbersome.

Some support was expressed, however, for changing the board's own budget review process to include a more detailed look at line items.

The board also approved unanimously a new mission statement prepared by the district's Strategic Planning Committee, and made the following personnel appointments: Dan Hannan as middle school head soccer coach, Wayne Howe as middle school assistant soccer coach, and Sue Howe and Jeremy Volkernick as middle school cross country co-coaches. A second probationary contract was approved for third-grade teacher Marcie Tupper.

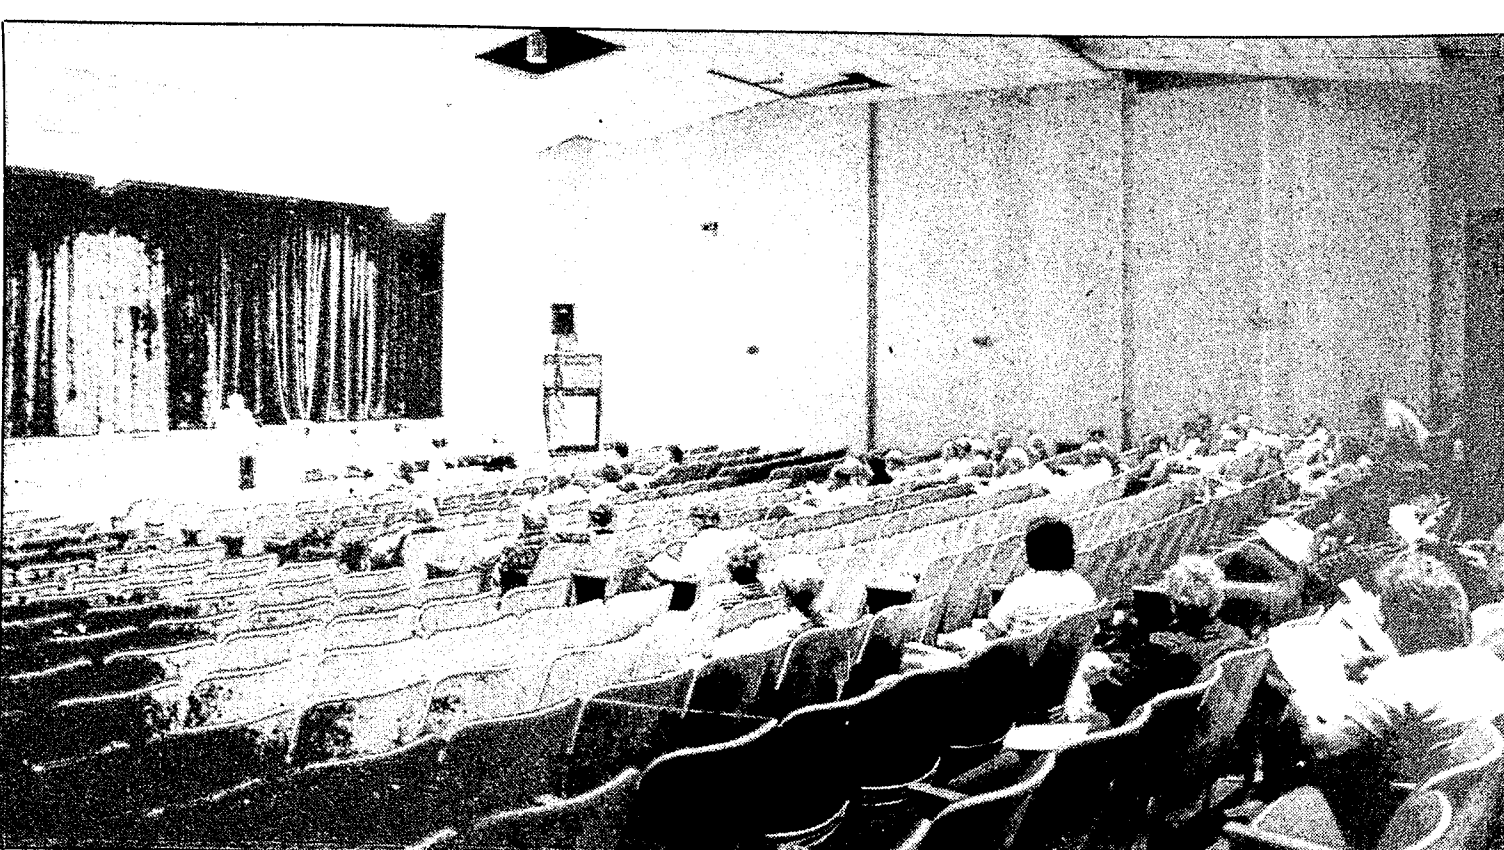

Last week's meeting was held at the Andover Elementary School. The following directors did not attend: John Percival of Andover, Debbie Poland of Woodstock, and Nancy Dewing and Ivan Roberts of Greenwood.

Otten elected head of Portland museum board

Leslie B. Otten has been elected president of the Board of Trustees of the Portland Museum of Art.

Otten, who has been president, owner, CEO and CFO of Sunday River Skiway Corporation since 1980, was elected at the recent annual meeting of the museum.

He served as a museum trustee last year. Otten's first affiliation with the museum was several years ago when his father's art collection was exhibited there.

DEMOCRACY IN ACTION—Only 78 of Bethel's 1731 registered voters bothered to turn out for last week's annual town meeting, but the meeting still lasted four hours, the longest in 10 years. The voters who did show up defeated a proposed backhoe purchase and two ordinance amendments, but they approved a new sign ordinance for the town.

IMPRESARIO SUE SAYS 'THANKS, BABES AND BUDDIES'

To the Editor:

It's Saturday morning, the day after the last performance of "Babes in Toyland." It's rainy and cool so I started a cozy fire in the fireplace. I wish you could all be sitting around with me so I could personally thank you. So many have said it's the "best one yet" but without your help it couldn't have happened. First and foremost, of course, are the performers, you all came through like "Stars." "Bravo, Bravo, Bravo." Thanks parents, for getting them to classes and rehearsals and for working backstage. To Nancy Howe, who was everywhere doing big and little things without being asked. To my capable assistants, Cheryl Cordova and Bonny Marshall, and my student acrobat demonstrator, Amanda Sysko, who worked in class as well as behind the scenes. To our wonderful set designers Renie McGrew and of course Gail Sysko, who made those wonderful headpieces for the "trees" and Marilyn Munce who made the fantastic "furniture." And, let us never forget the "trees" A.K.A. "Hoedown Dancers" A.K.A. backstage crew who flew around and set up backstage so fast they cut 15 minutes off show time—Eric Paul, Jim Murphy, Jim Costello, Peter Bodwell, Peter Lawton and never forget Jim Sysko who came to my rescue when the spotlight at Telstar didn't work, and Carol Fiske and Vicki Rackliffe from Gould Academy saved our lives. Thanks again. To my son Paul, who worked for days with me and my daughter Michelle Keyes taping the show at his Boone Island Studio in Portland and for Jane Rolfe who operated it so capably during the show. And last but by no means least the lighting crew who had to put up with my yelling at them to do it "now," Dustin Sysko, Jason Fraser and Michael Rackliffe. Show biz and life is like that sometimes, guys.

It's time to put another log on the fire. My mind is already planning next year's production. Think I'm kidding? You'd be surprised at what I have in store for all of us. It'll be a blast. And different—you'll see.

Have a great summer. Love you all. P.S. I'm sitting back and smelling the roses and giving, especially the turquoise and smoky quartz necklaces. Hugs and kisses to all of you.

INTERESTING START

To the Editor:

I want to thank everyone who voted for me for the offices of selectman and assessor. I will do my best for the length of my term to serve all Bethel citizens and work for the interests of the town.

Just before the start of the town meeting on Wednesday, June 12, I was given the oath of office by Merton Brown and took my seat at the table at the front of the auditorium. As the meeting progressed and the various articles were acted on, it became obvious that the voters present were acting in the best interest of the community.

As Article 35 was brought to the floor to be acted on, I had a very good feeling for the way the voters had acted. This article was to amend the Site Plan Review Ordinance and was primarily concerned with parking requirements. I was disappointed but not surprised when the article was rejected, since parking is controversial. My faith in the town meeting system was restored, however, by the approval of the Sign Ordinance, Article 36.

Article 37, which was concerned with amending the Sewer Use Ordinance and Wastewater Pollution Control Program, was brought to the floor. A motion was made to reject the amendments. Discussion of the article first highlighted the fact that the way the present ordinance was written required anyone making changes to an existing dwelling unit to pay what appeared to be an exorbitant cost for the privilege. Further discussion seemed to indicate a dissatisfaction with the ordinance in general as it existed.

As a member of the Sewer Study Committee I had worked on the original ordinance but knew that after a year of use changes would have to be made. The Sewer System Development Charge (SSDC), a major concern with the present ordinance, was written in an attempt to have people who were adding to the load on the sewer treatment plant pay part of the cost of the plant. The measurement of the additional cost involved the flows established by the state plumbing code and the additional connections to be added. At the town meeting when the present ordinance was approved and everyone was very much aware of the high cost of upgrading the sewer treatment plant and the projected cost of replacing the sewer lines in the streets, the fees seemed to be reasonable.

After one year of use it was found that the fee arrangement did not take into account the modification of connections or rates of flow in an existing dwelling unit which should provide a basis for adjusting the connection fee. The proposed method of computing the connection cost is based on comparing the rates of flow of the new plumbing arrangement as established by the state plumbing code and the actual usage based on experience.

Unfortunately, the article was defeated and the high costs in the present ordinance will continue. I believe it should also be pointed out that the existing ordinance, presented to town meeting, and passed by the voters was part of the consent decree agreed to by the state and the town. Other parts of the agreement included upgrading the sewer treatment plant and the work now being done to minimize the infiltration and inflow of water into the system. While these two actions are either completed or being worked on, the town is still facing more sewer line and storm drain work and further modification of the sewer plant at additional expense.

Article 38 was brought to the floor and acted on and the meeting adjourned. This ended my first town meeting as a selectman. It was a very educational experience for my first hours in office.

I hope that all Bethel citizens will feel free to contact me at any time with their concerns or suggestions.

To the Editor:

I wonder if you would be kind enough to look into a matter which has bothered me for quite some time. After studying the Site Plan Review Ordinance it is my opinion that the Bethel Town Office is in violation of it. Within the past couple years there has been much renovation to existing office space as well as creation of new offices. In addition, they have more recently created a large public meeting room. All these changes have resulted in more traffic from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. It is my understanding that the Town Office does not own any parking at all and that none of these changes to that building were approved by the Bethel Planning Board. I believe that the land behind the Town Office belongs to the Bethel Savings Bank.

One may argue that the Town Office has always been office space and therefore no change of use has occurred. However, certainly traffic has been increased as a result and certainly creating a large public meeting room would constitute a change of use.

It is my belief that town government should hold itself up to the same standard it imposes on others.

I would very much appreciate your looking into the matter and I shall look forward to hearing from you. Thank you very much.

WHERE WAS PLANNING BOARD?

To the Editor:

In regards to the recent town meeting, I would like to publicly note the lack of attendance at the meeting by the current planning board members.

Although I personally disagree with the need for additional ordinances, I feel that if the planning board is going to write sign ordinances and ask for the changes in current ordinances, as they did at the June 12 town meeting, they should all be in attendance to support those items as well as to answer questions related to them. This did not happen at the recent meeting as only one of a seven-member planning board was there.

I would also like to note that one selectman was not there. The selectmen are elected to represent the town and their presence should be mandatory at town meeting which is held only once a year. The date for town meeting is set far enough in advance so that I feel that there is time to allow for it in most schedules. Barring a personal emergency or graduation of their children, I believe they should all be in attendance at such an important event.

ONLY PERIODIC CHEMISTRY?

To the Editor:

SAD #44 parents and students beware. You may be paying twice for your high school education if your son and daughters want to attend college.

As of the year 1991-92, all students should know by the eighth-grade what they want to do after graduation—with no chance of changing their minds.

They should make sure their schedule is set for the next four years. Then be prepared to have whoever decides scheduling not offer a course you need for college—with no notice at all to you.

My daughter has known for at least four years what she wanted to do when she graduated. She had all her courses set up, as should be. Then, about a week ago, she came home and out of the "blue" announced that Telstar was not offering a chemistry course next year during her senior year. She has to have chemistry to go to college, but the school has decided to offer it every other year.

If she had known this last year, she would have been fine because she could have taken chemistry as a junior providing there was room in the class. Last September she tried to get into chemistry and the school said the class was full—but not to worry—she could take it her senior year. So all was fine, until now.

Now how does she get into college? Well I wish we knew the answer to that.

SAD #44 told me she should have been more prepared and that she should have kept more on top of things as parents. Well, we have been on top of things for four long years and sure thought everything was fine, until a week ago.

Chemistry was even on the course list when she made her schedule out for her senior year. Then all of a sudden they weren't offering it because there were only five students who wanted or needed it. Well I guess these five aren't important at this school.

We have NOVA students that need chemistry, also what about transfer students that might need it too?

I have put three other children through Telstar and never had this problem before.

We as parents were at the school board meeting on Monday May 27. They seemed to have no answers at all, except that we pay for summer correspondent course or Gould Summer School. Why should we pay for something she should get from our public school? This is like paying for her education twice.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

The historic oak beside the Dr. Moses Mason House, which dated back to Dr. Moses Mason's time was removed this past weekend. Earlier this spring the Society's Garden and Grounds Committee, upon the advice of Fred Burk of Sunday River Tree Service, unanimously recommended to the board of trustees that the tree be removed because of its diseased condition. As such it was a threat to the Dr. Moses Mason House since several thousand pounds of tree loomed over the house. Fearing a threat to people as well as the Society's headquarters, the trustees unanimously voted to remove the tree and to eventually plant another to replace it.

On Friday, June 7, a large crane came from Berlin, N.H. to assist Fred Burk in the tree's removal. It was taken down to all but its main trunk; on Tuesday, June 11, Burk cut down the last of it. Over 150 rings were counted; this would put the tree's origins at least to the 1840s, possibly earlier. Following a New England tradition upon the removal of a landmark tree, a gavel or gables were made of some of the wood. Former Society president Alden Kennett has volunteered to make a gavel of wood from the old oak tree.

share is getting up and leaving." Beverly Cassara agreed with Joseph's assessment that NTL's clientele had indeed changed over the years. The participants used to be church workers, community activists and teachers, she said, but increasingly the labs were dominated by "upwardly mobile middle-management people"—who, she said, "really had problems, believe me."

Following Thursday's meeting, Joseph met again with members of the Bethel/NTL Liaison Committee to plan for the transition activities.

Joseph said no decision had been made on whether NTL will try to sell its Broad Street property or to rent it out.

The town values the 8.4 acre parcel and buildings at $920,000, but because NTL is a non-profit organization it does not currently pay town taxes on the property. In the 1990 fiscal year, NTL made a $5,000 contribution to the town, but the organization contributed no money to the town last year, according to Town Clerk Merton Brown.

Next week: reactions and planning for a transition.

Do you also realize that last year we sent students to Gould for a German class. They couldn't get German at Telstar. SAD #44 administrators say we are an accredited school and are able to prepare our children for college. I don't think so.

Another possibility is that we move somewhere else for a year so she can get what she needs. Which would not be fair to her. She would have to leave friends of 13 years, sports teammates (some of which she's played with for six years), and graduate with strangers. If the only option is a course this summer, fine, but why should we pay for it?

If my child was failing and had to go to summer school that would be different. She very well would go and pay for it, but this is not the case here. It is in no way her fault, but the fault of someone who decided that we did not need chemistry next year.

If they want to alternate classes it should be made a year in advance so students can plan for it.

Well, we certainly have no answers to all this and at this time do not know what else we can do or where to turn, but we'll keep trying for her sake.

Please in no way blame your guidance counselors, because they knew nothing about this until a week ago either, or my daughter certainly would not be in this mess now and certainly would have had chemistry her junior year, I am sure about that. I have all the faith in the world in them. I am now a very concerned, upset and confused parent.

EMPTY ROAD—National Training Laboratories will cease its Bethel operations by the end of the current year. The organization's board of directors has decided that various problems with the Bethel location—the only training site owned by NTL—are hampering its marketing efforts. A decision has not yet been made on the disposition of the NTL property, which is located at the end of Broad Street.

Town meeting

natural-resources-protection provision to the town regulations, and would have set up parking requirements for day care establishments and institutions such as churches and schools.

The resources protection aspect of the changes was defended by board member Reggie Brown (one of only two members to attend the meeting) and received some support from the audience, but a majority of voters balked at adding still further parking regulations to the ordinance, and the amendment was defeated by a vote of 30-23.

The sewer use amendments suffered a similar fate, following an emotional presentation by Mike Brown regarding the cost of adding an in-law apartment to his home for his mother.

Ironically, the proposed amendments would have reduced the fees charged to users who increase their use of the system. It would have also updated the billing schedule so that users would be charged for what they actually used the quarter before, not—as under the present system—an average of what they used the previous year.

But despite the fact that the amendment would have lightened the burden imposed by the ordinance, the ordinance itself had become so unpopular with the voters—at least with those present—that the amendments were rejected, by a vote of 30-23.

One opponent acknowledged later that the vote probably appeared irrational, but, he said, it was meant "to send a message to town officials," about overregulation.

The proposed sign ordinance escaped the fate of the two ordinance amendments, and was passed 33-22.

On the matter of a proposed new backhoe purchase, voters sided with the town budget committee against the recommendation of the selectmen to spend $31,000 for the new piece of machinery.

The budget committee recommended attempting to repair the present backhoe and renting a larger unit when the job at hand demanded one.

The purchase was defeated 35-34, after an initial vote ended in a 33-33 tie.

In balloting the previous day for town officers, Norman Putnam was elected to three-year terms as selectman and assessor, and Cheryl Eliot and Edleen Winslow were elected to three-year terms on the SAD #44 board of directors.

Newry planning board meeting canceled

The Newry planning board will not meet today, June 19.

The next scheduled meeting will be July 3, at 7 p.m. at the town office.

Kennett and Williams real estate firms merge

The owners of two Bethel real estate agencies have announced a merger. Mary Jo Kennett, of Kennett Realty, and Scott Williams, of Williams Realty, said they have merged their two companies and will now be doing business as Kennett Realty.

The restructured firm will operate from offices on Main Street and the Sunday River Road.

Kennett, who will be the designated broker for the new firm, said that the agency will initially employ three full-time agents. "I don't think it's the number of people you employ, it's the amount of time and effort they devote to the customer," she said.

Kennett, who had set up her own firm only last October and had been very active in the months since, said the merger would provide her with an office on Main Street.

"It will mean a lot more work," she said, "but we're confident we can handle it."

Kennett said that Scott Management Company will continue to operate as a separate entity, with Cathy Hussey handling retail listings.

A third Bethel agency, Mahosue Realty, also announced last week that three former Williams Realty agents, Marcia Denison, Marcel Polak and Sumner Burgess, had joined its staff. Mahosue owner, Wendy Penley, said of the move: "I'm thrilled that Marcia, Marcel and Sumner have opted to come work with us."

CLOSING ITS DOORS—A final busload of Ethel Bisbee School students, upper right, leaves the school grounds for the last time at the end of school Thursday. Due to budget cuts, the 66-year-old school will not reopen in the fall. All its former students, above, will be transferred to Crescent Park School.

Although the future of the building is uncertain at this time, Seth Howe, right, Malcolm Gilbert, Matthew Newell, Jay Hanscom, Justin Wright, Paige Brown, and Amanda Waterhouse were certainly happy to retire for this season.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

Monday, June 10, was a very busy day! Grades two-six held their annual end of the year field day. Grade four-six spent the day at Hebron Academy, participating in a variety of events, and grades two and three had the school all to themselves for their first activities.

Second and third graders participated in teams with such activities as the Dress Up Relay, the Squirrel Gun Relay and Nerf Hockey Relay. Points were kept for each activity and the scores were so close every team came out a winner! Team A came in first and congratulations to Bruce Adkins, Lauren Dembski, Stanley Hill, Jacob Mallory, Tobey Shattenberg, Matthew Blake, Emily Boutilier, Rebecca Chase, Ed Plant and Jennifer Twitchell.

There was a tie for second place. Congratulations go to Shawn Boutilier, Libby Doughty, Abby Inman, Casey Newell, Misty Coffin, Jeff Hollowell, Bryan Martin, Jessica Skinner and Eric Thorpe of Team B, and to Aaron Brough, Cameron Hall, Michael Johnson, Tami Rosenberg, Juanita Toothaker, Jessica Farrar, Nathan Hutchins, Melissa Martin, Heather Theofrastou, and Charity Weiss of Team C.

Team D finished only two points behind and really earned their third place honors. Congratulations to Vanessa Pawlowski, David Hemphill, Justin Jones, Crystal Russell, Holly Graiver, Walter Inman, Joel Martino, Lindsay Newell and Terry Weston.

Grades four and six were presented with their ribbons upon their return to school. Winners in the 50-yard dash were: First place, Dewayne Alford; Second place, Audrey Tikander, Third place, Scott Pawlowski. The 100-yard dash: First place, Dewayne Alford; Second place, Audrey Tikander; Third place, Jason Eastman. The 300-yard race: First place, Joshua Dunham; Second place, Scott Pawlowski; Third place, Derek Leonard. The 400-yard race: First place, Dewayne Alford; Second place, tie with Scott Pawlowski and Tim Farrar; Third place, Kris Pearson. The 800-yard race: First place, Joshua Dunham; Second place, tie with Tim Farrar; Third place, Scott Pawlowski.

The Frisbee throw for distance found Edwin Orr taking first place, Jason Hill in second, and Nicholas Theofrastou in third. Honors in softball throw went to Dewayne Alford for first, Joshua Dunham in second, and Charlie Buker in third. The standing board jump was impressive with Dewayne Alford jumping 7'6", Joshua Dunham, 6'8", and Edwin Orr, 6'6". The running long jump was equally exciting. Dewayne Alford 14'10", Jason Eastman, 13', and Joshua Dunham, 12'1".

The sack race involved two heats for each grade and two first prizes were given at each grade level. Fourth-grade winners were Kris Pearson and Kylie Daniels. Fifth-grade winners were Audrey Tikander and Derek Leonard. Sixth-grade winners were Hope Lovejoy and Kim Pearson. First, second and third place ribbons were awarded to each grade level in the three-legged race. In fourth-grade first place went to Cameron Richards and Vernon Inman; Second place to Eli Beaulieu and Kris Pearson; and third place to Eric Smith and Nicholas Theofrastou. Fifth-grade winners were: First place, Henry Bindbeutel and Mark Pawlowski; Second place to Tovah Everett and Jeannine Dembski; Third place to Shawn Coffin and Edwin Orr.

Honors in sixth grade were: First place, Scott Pawlowski and Chad Chase; Second place, Hope Lovejoy and Amey Coffin; Third place Emily Cole and Angie Waterhouse. Students at each grade level who could keep the hula spinning were: Fourth-graders Candice Campbell in first place; Eli Beaulieu, second; and Lisa Boutilier, third; Fifth-graders were: Faith Lovejoy, first; Audrey Tikander, second; and Derek Leonard, third. First place in sixth-grade went to: Hope Lovejoy; second place to Karen Yates; and third place to Emily Cole.

In group activities the fifth-graders were champs. They beat both the fourth and sixth-graders in the tug-of-war, and they handily pulled the teachers and chaperones over the line also! In the team relay race the fifth-grade came in first thanks to William Graiver, Jeannine Dembski, Audrey Tikander and Derek Leonard. The sixth-grade team was a close second with Dewayne Alford, Tim Farrar, Jason Eastman, and Scott Pawlowski. The fourth-grade raced and passed the baton well and came in third. Members of the fourth-grade team were: Melissa Skinner, Kris Pearson, Eric Smith, and Johanna Farrar.

After a beautiful, but busy, field day, students and teachers returned to school at 6:30 for our spring concert. Grades K-6 each presented a few songs, the chorus of fourth, fifth and sixth-graders presented a few selections and Erin Doughty, Jeannine Dembski, Kim Kangas, Tim Farrar, Mr. Barker and Mr. Burke presented Ode To Joy on the tone chimes. Each class did something a little different. Several of the songs had accompanying theatrics. The third-graders version of Take Me Out To The Ball Game was particularly well done. Teachers, students and chaperones all must have slept well after such a busy day! Thanks to all who helped and participated.

Classroom news in brief for this week: Kindergarten classes are writing backwards from 10 to 0 and are celebrating with a Super Tiger Party. First-graders are writing a story about a trip to the ocean, are playing Big Number Bingo and are taking home their begonias. In second grade Shawn Boutilier is the special helper and he is joining his classmates with a closer look at earthworms! Their last spelling lesson of the year involves funny story words.

The third-graders are making their

SUMMER BASKETBALL

The 1991 summer basketball program began yesterday.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays, Ivan Roberts and Fred Seger, a retired high school coach from Long Island, New York, are running a basketball clinic for players going into the sixth, seventh, and eighth-grades. The clinic will be held from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m., and games will be played against area teams.

The high school boys summer basketball program is held at 6:30 p.m., under the direction of Carroll Higgins, Telstar varsity coach. The high-school age players will play a 12 game schedule against other teams.

The high school girls program starts today, June 19 at 6 p.m. under the direction of Barb Dunham. Games are scheduled against area teams. All programs are free.

own yearbook and are studying ecology in science. The fourth-graders are turning in their state project, and are thanking their chaperones for a great trip to Augusta last week. The fifth-graders are bringing in their favorite children's book to read to the class. The sixth-graders are finishing up their oral book reports and are on the very last spelling lesson in their book. It's a good thing there's also no more school left!

The library closed during the last week of school, but children are encouraged to return books, even next fall, if they find them over the summer.

If you have driven by either of our schools you may have noticed that flowers were planted in the new flower beds. Thanks to the Garden Club for planting and to Lee Farrar for donating the seedlings. They are beautiful! See you next week for our final column of the year.

fielder Shilo Hutchins to start the inning. Kangas then sacrificed the runners over and Delano scored on a ground out by Jen Bailey.

The Rebels scored again in the third on an error. Delano hit an RBI single in the fourth to make it 3-0.

Meanwhile Kangas made it tough for the Owls. She held Madawaska's offense to a one hit, allowing only five base runners. She gave up no walks and struck out 10 batters.

"That's outstanding pitching," said Coach Lunney.

The Rebel offense overwhelmed Madawaska with eight more runs in the sixth, putting the game out of reach.

Three walks and an error contributed to the high scoring inning. Lynn Buckingham drew the first walk and went to second on a sacrifice by Angie Hebert. Jen Percival also walked and Delano's single scored Buckingham.

A single by Hutchins drove in Percival to make it 5-0.

Kangas then drew the innings third walk to load the bases. Bailey made first on a fielder's choice, and Delano scored on the throw.

Bernier came up with the bases still loaded and blasted a hit to left-center that cleared the bases.

Bernier was thrown out at the plate on Amy Hannon's fielder's choice. Hannon then stole second, and scored on a Buckingham single. Buckingham went to second on the throw and then made third on a passed ball. A single by Hebert scored the game's final and eleventh run.

The championship game was a much more relaxed affair than Wednesday's Western Maine Class C title game against Sacopee Valley, which turned into a real nail-biter.

The Rebels scored only two runs and were forced to use their gloves to save the day.

In the first inning with two out Telstar got off to an early lead. Amy Hannon drew a walk and then stole second. Buckingham drove her home with a single to center.

The Hawk's countered with a run in the bottom of the second. That was the end of the scoring until the sixth.

In the top of the sixth Bailey drew a walk and stole second on the next pitch. An error on Bernier's sacrifice bunt put her on first and moved Bailey to third. Amidst much Sacopee fielding confusion on the throwing error to first base Bailey rounded third and scored to make it a Rebel 2-1 lead.

The Hawks threatened the Rebel lead twice in the game's last two innings.

With two outs in the sixth, a Hawk batter, hit by a pitch, was sent to first. She was replaced with a pinch-runner.

The next Sacopee batter smashed a single to right, a hard single that allowed the Rebels to execute a perfect relay—right fielder Percival to first baseman Delano to Bernier at the plate. Bernier nailed the pinch-runner by a stride. Despite a big-bang collision, Bernier held the ball for the inning's final out.

The Hawks got another runner on base in the seventh, but Bernier picked her off with a textbook throw from behind the plate—ending the game and clinching the Western Maine Class C title.

DEAD OUT—With two outs in the sixth inning, Sacopee Valley's pinch runner knew that the only way to a Western Maine Class C victory was through Telstar catcher Dani Bernier—but Bernier was unyielding. Blocking the plate and nailing the charging runner, she shut down the inning and the threat. Here Bernier gets up from the collision and checks the bases—just in case it wasn't the third out. In the following inning, Bernier drove the last nail in the Hawk's coffin, when with two outs in the bottom of the seventh, she notified a Sacopee runner leaning too far off first base. Bernier fired off a throw that nailed the runner for the game's final out. Sophomore batter Mary Bernier and Stacie Kangas have been named to the Mountain Valley Conference's First Team of All-Stars. Teammates, first baseman Kris Delano and left fielder Shilo Hutchins were named to the MVC's second team.

WES presents sports awards

More than 150 people attended the annual sports banquet at the Woodstock Elementary School, sponsored by the Woodstock Parent Teacher Association.

Following a covered dish supper served by members of the W.P.T.A., Molly Ware of Oxford Hill High School was presented as the keynote speaker.

Ware, who graduated first in her class this year with plans to attend Harvard University in the fall, spoke to the group about her involvement in sports. She told the Woodstock students that juggling both academics and athletics is not an easy task but it can be done. She closed her speech with the message that the support of a family is vital to success in school and in sports.

Trophies were awarded to the most improved and most outstanding students in soccer, basketball and softball. All students participating in sports also received pins for their sports. Coaches at Woodstock this year were Jolene Shimamura for basketball and Barb Dunham for soccer and softball.

Special awards were presented to Glenn Dakin for his assistance in Woodstock sports this year and Miriam (Mina) Morgan for her dedication and help during the basketball season over the last few years.

Tom McGinniss announced that all is well in the planning for the Bethel Art Fair, to be held on Saturday, July 6.

Health Center

Since 1985, Maine law has recognized your right to refuse life sustaining treatment for a terminal condition by preparing a Living Will Declaration.

According to the Maine Committee on Aging's "Living Will Declaration in Maine," any person of sound mind 18 years of age or older may execute a Living Will Declaration. Information and a Living Will Declaration are now available at the Health Center.

The purpose of a Living Will is that it is a way to tell your family and the medical community ahead of time what your wishes are. In a terminal condition (defined as an incurable and irreversible condition that is likely to result in death within a short time), communication may be impossible. In this situation, others will face the difficult decision of whether to use life sustaining medical procedures to keep you alive.

In signing the Living Will, you are telling others that you do not want your life prolonged by these procedures. If you do become terminally ill, the medical community must follow the directions you give in your Living Will. If your personal doctor is unwilling to do so, she must transfer you to another doctor who will follow your directions. For a copy of the Living Will Declaration, please call the Health Center.

The next scheduled Exercise Program

Orientation class is set for Wednesday evening, June 26 and is already filling up. We plan to have an orientation every other Wednesday evening from 5 to 6:30 p.m. Remember you must go through an orientation to become a member of the BAHCE exercise program and use the facilities. Please call us with requests and suggestions for exercise programs—we would like to try to meet your needs.

We have the desire and expertise to design an exercise program just for you or organize a group activity. Let us know! To register for the June 26 orientation class please call Linda Ray or Mary Rossi at 824-2193.

UNEMPLOYED PROFESSIONALS

The Rumford/Bethel area Unemployed Professionals group held its second meeting on June 12. The topic was networking, and presenters were Mary Elwell from Wilton Mountain Valley Training and Tina LaFleur, Coordinator of the Northern Oxford Task Force on Economic Development (N.O.T.E.D.).

In addition to skill-building, the group serves as a forum for the sharing of experience and ideas.

All meetings are on Wednesdays from 1-3 p.m., and the summer's schedule is: June 26, July 24, and August 28. All professionals in the area who are anxious to get back in the work force are welcome to attend; we hope the skills and suggestions we can offer each other will be instrumental in doing this!

By popular demand, the next meeting will focus on resume-writing. The presenter will be Dr. Bruce Dean, a UMF professor, and there will also be opportunities to have participants' resumes critiqued by the group. Those wanting feedback on their resume should bring a copy with them, and also any available books or other materials on resume-writing.

June 26, Wednesday, 1-3 p.m., the meeting will be at the Rumford office of the Job Service (lower Congress Street). Seating is limited, so please call the Job Service (364-9718) to register.

Tinnitus: Ringing in the Ears

One out of ten persons has some type of hearing problem. One of the most common hearing problems is tinnitus, a ringing, humming, buzzing, or pulsating noise in the ears. Tinnitus can be brought on by exposure to certain medicines (aspirin, caffeine, quinine, and some prescription medicines), loud noises, stress, teeth grinding, ear infections, and other health problems such as otosclerosis (a bone disease in the middle ear). The most common cause appears to be exposure to loud noises such as those produced by firearms, loud music, and high speed power tools.

Tinnitus can result when the very small, hair-like cells in the inner ears are damaged. These damaged cells send irregular nerve impulses to the brain in response to sound waves. It is thought that the brain interprets the irregular impulses as ringing or buzzing. Unfortunately, damage to inner ear hair cells is permanent for many persons by the time they recognize ringing in the ears. Ringing may be accompanied by hearing loss.

Further damage to hair cells can be prevented by avoiding loud noises and wearing protective devices over or in the ears. Avoid or minimize caffeine (beverages and medicines). Minimize aspirin use in favor of other pain relievers. Relaxation and biofeedback techniques may help overcome stress-related teeth grinding.

Last Monday night was Grange at Bryant Pond and we had our memorial service and election of officers. Tuesday night was Pannaia at Fredrick Robie Grange in Otsfield and we had a memorial program.

Thursday evening was Green Sash night at West Paris Grange so the Pannaia officers were to fill the offices and we were there at that. Helped with the program also. You can see that Grange can keep one running if they want to go. At least six nights a week if one wanted to find a meeting in progress.

Saturday evening was alumni banquet at Telstar High School and Russell, Peggy, Tom and I went to that. It was Russell's fiftieth graduation anniversary and all of his class but one was there to celebrate. We all enjoyed a delicious supper and a little entertainment which we don't usually have but thanks to the class of 1941, we had some entertainment. Russell spoke a funny piece and Dick Felt and Dot Canwell as well as Johnny Howe played some music for everyone to enjoy. It was a great treat.

Sunday was a busy day for Peggy and Russell especially as they were both having reunions with classmates. Russell and his classmates met at Steve Chase's home in Norway for their get-together and Peggy and her classmates met at Goldstreet for a get-together. With all gone, I decided to go calling and went to visit Mary and Reino Korhonen whom I have not called on for ages. Had a good visit with them and just might do it again some day.

It is a beautiful morning and yesterday was a beautiful day for all to have reunions or whatever else they had planned.

Have seen another woodchuck out about here and we are trying to catch him before he has a chance to get into the garden and ruin plants. Hope we succeed. A woodchuck could sure ruin our peas that are doing so well at this time.

Don't believe all the seed is so good this year as lot of it has not come up as it should have and that is disappointing. When one plants a garden and puts in all that time, it makes it harder when the seeds don't come up and grow for one. In fact it can be down right disgusting and discouraging.

The moose are getting more plentiful I guess with all that are seen around lately. When I was coming home last Wednesday, there were two of them on High Street just below the road that goes to Hugh Hill's home. It looked like a cow and maybe a year old moose with her. Also the other day, our neighbor Kathleen Holden saw one just above Lawrence's on High Street and had to stop for her. She said they had seen tracks down their road the weekend before and that they were huge tracks and thought they were probably a bull's tracks. Many folks have been seeing moose around and it makes one wonder if they will meet up with one if they go walking. Also one was seen down farther on High Street recently so wonder just how many are around.

Expect school will soon be out and the children busy with summer things to do. I am sure they are looking forward to it whether anyone else is or not.

I am sure there have been other goings on in the neighborhood this week but haven't heard about them as yet. Friday, the Hank Hansons from Augusta called on Mary Lovejoy and she was most glad to see them as Mrs. Hanson was her first foster child. It is always good to see children who you have had in the past.

Friday evening Mary Lovejoy and family went to Telstar High School for graduation and Bertha Benoit accompanied her.

Marcia Baxter was in Skowhegan this weekend to attend the graduation program of her niece, I believe. Lots of graduations taking place at this time.

The Mission Congregational Church will be having daily Bible school from June 24th through the 28th, so hope children come.

Also don't forget the benefit dance to be held at West Paris Grange Hall on the 29th of June to help Amanda Dunham who has had the misfortune to break her leg again. She broke it and was in traction and a body cast then after the cast, broke it again so has had a very hard time, and needs help. Come for a good time as well as to help.

The Grange dances will be on July 6th and the 13th so they are due to remember. Take care one and all and have a good week ahead. Keep watch, with all the moose around you might get to see one or two.

By JIM ANDERSON

For this reporter, life here has slowed down a bit since my last column. On June 8th, in the late afternoon, there was a "duff" fire on north peak on the Sunday River Skiway's property. One truck from that side of town and four men from there made it to the fire. The jeep with it's pump made it to the fire and two men from Bear River side of town. I was at the station when the call came in (Bear River) and called unit 20A to see if anything was needed. The pump on the jeep was and I drove it over to the site. Earlier, the chief showed me how to use the pump to fill unit 20B and how to work the hose. All together there were six of us on the hill (I was ordered to stay with the trucks and man the radio).

June 9th was quiet, thank goodness! After church, we here relaxed!

June 10th there was a meeting of the Oxford County Fire Department Association in Hebron. I wasn't sure where the fire house was and got a lift with the Bethel men that were going. Bethel Chief James Young is the present president. At that meeting I had the chance to tell those there that I was setting up a "Fireman's Equipment Exchange" and that those interested could contact me thru the Newry Fire Department. There were nineteen of the 38 fire departments of Oxford County there. As the Bethel men had said, it was hot up in the meeting hall. The Hebron station has as much equipment as Newry does.

June 11th there was a meeting of the County Republicans at the Stoneham Fire Department. Again, they have as much equipment as Newry does and some of the trucks are as old as ours. While I was outside having a smoke, I met Lovell's Fire Chief, Larry Fox. We talked about fire department things and were joined by "Mr. Republican from Fryeburg," a fireman. On the way to the meeting, mother and I noticed that Wee-Willie was up, but we didn't stop to talk to him.

Sylvia and Bill Wight were gone to Jackson Hole and the International Snowmobile Congress during the week we had the two fires. Sylvia, who had been in the hospital just before they left, sounded tired but chipper for the "vacation."

Bowling news: There were five at bowling this week plus the usual two riders of Reta Powers and myself. I paid for 7 pinball games and played 10. "La Grand Dame" (Gil Seelye) beat both Karlene Bachelder and Betsy Clark for both high game and high trip games. Gil must have eaten her Wheaties that morning!

Question: What walks thru the woods, loves spaghetti and meatballs, is trained to Bear and quackers and had a birthday after Father's Day?

Answer: One gray game warden, who's one heck of a guy! Happy 39th, again!

On June 23 there will be at the Newry Grange Hall a benefit dinner for the Davis's. It will be from 5-7 p.m. Adults will be $5 and children under 12, $2.

Thought of the day: If you can laugh at yourself, there's still hope you will amount to something.

Prayer, purity and growth, communicate and worship "Him." Our responsibility to live in hope, knowing that many of God's promises will be fulfilled in the future.

Sunday should be set apart for our worship. Heb. 10:25. Missionary of the Month: Jay and Linda Walker on Rural Maine Ministries.

Daily Vacation Bible School: June 24-28, 9 to 11 a.m. Closing program will be Friday, June 28 at 5:30 p.m. with a supper following at 6 p.m.

Looking ahead: July quarterly business meeting. June 23rd Guest speaker will be Daniel Pearson. He is the son of former pastor, Rev. and Mrs. Nathaniel Pearson of Arrington, Maine.

June 14 was Flag Day. The first Flag Day was observed in 1861, at Hartford, Conn., by hanging out flags and by having a patriotic program, with music, addresses, and prayer. The celebration of Flag Day in the public schools began at Philadelphia in 1893. The romantic story of our flag is told on its anniversary.

Praise of the country's flag has been a favorite theme of the great orators of every nation, and poets, too, have sung the praises of national emblems. The Stars and Stripes has called forth many noble sentiments of patriotism, in peaceful days as well as in war time.

These writings are more than the mere glorification of a piece of bunting; they are the outward expression of some of the aspirations and ideals of a people who live in a land bright with hope of national righteousness.

There was written "The National Banner" by Edward Everett and many others. "The Standard of the Union" by Daniel Webster, "The American Flag" by A.P. Putnam, "The National Ensign" by Robert Winthrop and still others, but of all, my favorite is "Makers of the Flag" which so many times I read to my pupils and so many times was asked to read.

There are flag stories also. "The love of Flag" by a boy of Japan. "The Flag and the Work House," "An Indian Chief and the Flag on the Buffalo Robe," plus "The Flag of Monterey." "Your flag and my flag, And how it flies today/In your land and my land/ and half a world away!" (Wilbur D. Nesbit).

Our moose, which we named Bullwinkle is back. It has been seen several times.

Eva Felton is still at Stephens Memorial Hospital at this time. She had a birthday on June 7th and was well remembered with cards and flowers.

My callers have been Ernest Curtis and daughter, Maxine, Poland, Rena Curtis, Marie Curtis, Ray and Lenora, Holt, John and Dot Betts, Local, Evelyn Heikkinen, Rumford; Ernest Mundt, Bethel; and Zilpha DiArenzo, local.

Visitors at the Holt farm were Robert, Jeri and Jenny Holt, Windsor; David, Sally and Mary Holt, Norway; Fran, Debbie, and Lisa Piccirillo, Norman Millett, Zilpha DiArenzo, local; Ann Holt, Bethel. I enjoyed the evening with them as I do each Sunday.

Rena Curtis has been camping with some of her children.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Inman were at Camp Maplewood on Sunday and the Forgets were at their camp.

A correction to one of last week's news items: Ryan Bernier was the person who graduated from Telstar not Brian.

Mrs. Floribel Haines and son, Fred, were in Poland on June 2 to place flowers on family graves. On June 9, Ernest Curtis and Mrs. Maxine Leighton of Poland visited at the Fred Haines homestead.

Ms. Judy Smith of Bucksport, Ms. Gloria Crockett of East Bethel, Ms. Esther Fuller of Locke Mills, Ms. Wilma Bean of East Bethel, and Ms. Dori Hallman of Durham hosted a 50th Wedding Anniversary party at the American Legion Hall in Bethel for their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Chet Harrington on June 8th. There were many friends, neighbors, and family members present.

Staci Bean, daughter of Wayne and Wilma Bean, graduated from Telstar on June 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kimball attended Ryan Bernier's graduation at Telstar on June 7th.

Chester Kimball attended the Woodstock Alumni Banquet on June 8th at Telstar.

Arlene Harrington attended Staci Bean's graduation on June 7th from Telstar.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Moore and Freda Edmunds of South Paris visited Mr. and Mrs. Chet Harrington on June 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Remington of Livermore Falls visited Mr. and Mrs. Chet Harrington on June 5th.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hallman and children, Heather and Whitney, of Durham visited at the Harrington homestead from June 6th to the 9th.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hastings visited at the Harrington's on June 8th.

Mrs. Ruth Bethel arrived at the George Bethel's on June 4th from Brooklyn, NY. She will be staying for the summer.

Mrs. Agnes Haines, Mrs. Peggy Coolidge, and Mrs. Floribel Haines attended the Senior Citizens Meeting at the Pleasant Valley Grange Hall in West Bethel on June 12th.

A sad item: Erlon Bean passed away in the early hours of June 13th. He fought a brave fight!

CHARLES W. DAY
Who Passed Away
June 14, 1992

Nine long years have passed since God took you away. It is so lonesome here without you. I miss you more each day. A golden hair stopped beating and you were then at rest. It was so hard to let you go, but God always does what's best. I think of you in silence and make no outward show; for what it meant to lose you no one will ever know.

By James J. Metcalfe
I thought I gave you all my love the moment that we met that I could have no greater love for anyone, and yet somehow I love you more and more with every passing day. And always it grows stronger in a new and sweeter way each second you are at my side your presence seems to bless my heart and soul with fair an hope and every happiness.

And so perhaps, my only one your heart will understand why all my thanks and praise for you go out to all the land. I cherish you each moment and love you more each day. And thank you God that you are mine in every prayer I say.

Lovingly remembered,
Wife - Grace B. Day
